

2025 Training and Wellness Seminars

Providing employers the tools and resources needed to support employees and drive positive change

Anthem

Introduction

When your employees are facing personal or professional challenges, it can impact your company's culture and overall performance. We are dedicated to providing employees and managers with valuable resources, techniques, and support.

Through our seminars and podcasts we aim to educate employees and people leaders on important health, wellness, and work-life balance issues. Our offerings cover a wide range of topics, including substance use, bullying, retirement planning, and communication skills. Additionally, we offer leadership-focused topics such as managing change, fostering inclusion, and effective delegation.

Employee Assistance Program seminars and podcasts are designed for informational purposes only and are not meant to provide legal, financial or medical advice.

Q: How and when can I schedule a seminar or podcast?

A: You can request a seminar or podcast by contacting your Client Consultant. We ask for a minimum of 15- to 20-day notice to coordinate your event. Let your Client Consultant know which seminar or podcast you want to offer, along with where and when you'd like to have it.

Q: How long are the seminars, podcasts and videos?

A: Most seminars are 50-60 minutes in length. Podcasts vary but are typically between 5-15 minutes. Additional fees/hours may apply for training over 60 minutes and podcast customizations.

Q: Where are the seminars held?

A: Seminars can take place on-site, be held virtually, or both. Please let your Client Consultant know which format you prefer.

Q: Do I need to have any special equipment to hold an on-site seminar or training?

A: Yes, you will need to have a computer with Microsoft PowerPoint and the technology to project a slide show. Plan to have the presentation loaded and ready to go on the day of your seminar. If you do not have this technology, you can still schedule a seminar — just let your Client Consultant know.

Q: Can these seminars be recorded for playback at a later time?

A: Yes, you will need to request the event be recorded. Once your event is done, you will receive a link to your recording.

Q: How much do the seminars and podcasts cost?

A: Seminars and podcasts are subtracted from your contracted training bank of hours. After you've used your hours, the seminars and podcasts are billed fee for service. Contact your Client Consultant for information about pricing and your training bank balance.

Q: Can we cancel a seminar?

A: Yes, but we ask for a 72-hour cancellation notice for all live events. Failure to give notice may result in a cancellation fee or deduction of the seminar hours from your available bank of hours.

Q: What happens once the seminar is scheduled?

A: You will receive a confirmation via email, including event details, presentation materials, and an evaluation QR code.

Q: Will I speak with the facilitator the seminar?

A: Yes, your facilitator will contact you before the seminar date to introduce themselves and discuss any outstanding details. Be sure to tell the facilitator about your workplace culture, the work your employees do, and your goals for the event.

Q: Does the EAP you have a minimum attendance requirement?

A: No, but we prefer five or more employees. *Trainings should not be used as a direct employee coaching session, or to replace the role of HR in addressing performance and other workplace concerns.

Q: How do I obtain the results of the training evaluations?

A: Contact your Client Consultant to request the results. These are made available upon request only.

Q: What's the best way to ensure a successful event?

A: Here are a few steps to help make sure it's a success:

- Select a topic of interest to your employees.
- Schedule the event well in advance.
- Promote your event widely and often.
- Send a reminder message to your employees.
- Distribute seminar materials.

COMMUNITY AND GIVING BACK: LEAVING YOUR FOOTPRINTS

In this seminar, you will explore the profound mental, emotional, and physical benefits of giving back through service. We will address common fears and barriers to getting involved and guide you in discovering your unique purpose within your community. Few experiences in life provide the same sense of fulfillment as helping others. By the end of this seminar, you will be equipped with practical resources, a renewed sense of motivation, and a clear pathway to start making a meaningful impact in your community.

COPING WITH MASS SHOOTINGS

In this seminar, you will learn how to navigate the emotional and psychological challenges that arise in the aftermath of mass shootings. These events, which disrupt the sense of safety for both children and adults, are an unfortunate growing reality we must all be prepared to face. You will gain tools to recognize the warning signs of trauma, anxiety, and distress, and learn practical coping mechanisms to manage your own well-being and support others during these uncertain times. Additionally, we will discuss how to access professional help and community resources to foster resilience in the face of tragedy.

CULTURAL MYTHS IN MEDIA: FACT OR FICTION

In this seminar, you will explore how the media shapes and constructs cultural narratives that influence our society. We will examine the powerful tools used by media—such as imagery, language, and emotional appeals—to create myths that evoke strong reactions from the public. As the landscape of media evolves with the rise of blogs and online platforms, you will learn how to become a critical consumer of information. This seminar will provide you with the resources necessary to discern fact from fiction and develop a more informed perspective in today's media-driven world.

DECREASING VIOLENCE ON COLLEGE CAMPUSES

As parents, we all want our children to thrive during their college years—academically, socially, and emotionally. However, campus violence is a concern for many families. In this interactive seminar, you will gain a comprehensive understanding of the realities of campus violence, including the most common types of incidents. You'll learn effective strategies for discussing these challenging issues with your children, be equipped with valuable resources to enhance campus safety and ensure your family feels supported and prepared.

DISASTER PREPAREDNESS

Disasters often strike unexpectedly, leaving many unprepared for the aftermath. In this seminar, you will explore critical steps and resources needed to ensure you and your loved ones are ready for any emergency. You will learn how to develop a comprehensive disaster preparedness plan that includes safeguarding family members, pets, important documents, and your home. By the end of this seminar, you will have the knowledge and tools needed to face disasters with greater confidence and readiness.

FINAL ARRANGEMENTS: HONORING, REMEMBERING, AND CELEBRATING A LIFE

In this seminar, you will explore the grieving process and be provided guidance on navigating the difficult journey of losing a loved one. You will learn how to proactively initiate conversations about end-of-life wishes, making funeral planning more manageable and respectful of final desires. The seminar will also cover caregivers' rights, important considerations when making final arrangements, managing personal grief, and available support for post-bereavement care. By the end, you will feel more prepared to honor your loved ones and care for yourself throughout the process.

FIRST RESPONDERS: FOCUS ON WELLNESS

Supporting first responders requires specialized knowledge and skills, as their high-stress, trauma-filled work can deeply impact their well-being both on the job and at home. This discussion-based seminar will explore key insights into the unique challenges faced by first responders and healthcare workers, offering practical tools and strategies to address their mental, emotional, and physical wellness. Join us to learn how we can better support these vital professionals and help them maintain resilience in the face of extraordinary pressures.

HOW SAFE ARE YOU?

In today's world, personal safety is a top priority for us and our loved ones. This interactive seminar will teach you best practices for reducing your likelihood of becoming a target while learning how to project confidence and stay focused in dangerous situations. Join us to enhance your awareness and preparedness for maintaining personal safety.

LGBTQIA+ MENTAL HEALTH – EVERY MIND MATTERS

In this seminar, you will explore the unique risk factors and forms of trauma faced by the LGBTQIA+ community. We'll dive into mental health statistics and discuss building resilience, offering genuine allyship, and knowing when and how to seek help for yourself or others. Join us to learn valuable tools for supporting mental health and fostering a more inclusive, supportive environment for everyone.

POLITICAL ANXIETY

Recent political divisions have created stress and anxiety in unprecedented ways. Regardless of your political affiliation, it is possible to manage this stress and prevent political discussions from turning confrontational, especially during family gatherings. In this course, you will learn strategies to acknowledge and respect differences, identify areas of control in your life, and engage in meaningful, respectful conversations that reduce political anxiety. Join us to explore ways to maintain peace and understanding in politically charged environments.

THE POWER OF VOLUNTEERING

In this seminar, you will explore the positive impact of volunteering on both individuals and organizations. We will discuss the physical, intellectual, and emotional benefits of giving back to the community. You will gain insights into how volunteering can enhance personal and professional growth while building meaningful connections. By the end of this seminar, you'll have the resources and motivation needed to start making a difference in your own community!

AFRICAN AMERICAN HISTORY MONTH - FEBRUARY

Black History Month is an annual celebration of African American achievements and an opportunity to recognize their pivotal role in our history. This presentation will highlight the accomplishments of Black individuals in American society and culture while acknowledging the ongoing impact of slavery and systemic racism. During this interactive seminar, we will discuss the origins of Black History Month, and the fight to recognize the historical legacy of African Americans.

THE EFFECT OF CURRENT CULTURE ON THE LGBTQ+ COMMUNITY'S WELLBEING

In this seminar, we will create a safe and supportive space to explore how current cultural events are impacting the mental and emotional well-being of the LGBTQ+ community. We will discuss the stress and trauma of navigating systems not designed with LGBTQIA+ experiences in mind and examine ways to foster greater understanding and allyship. Join us to learn how we can all contribute to creating a more inclusive and supportive environment for everyone.

THE TRUTH ABOUT HATE CRIMES

Understanding the history and definition of 'hate crimes' is crucial to comprehending contemporary events. In this seminar, we will discuss the rise of hate crimes against specific communities, and explore ways to get involved and support those disproportionately affected. Join this powerful seminar to gain resources and tools for being an upstander in your community in the face of discrimination and hatred.

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT DEMONSTRATIONS

The right to peacefully assemble is one of America's most sacred freedoms, protected by the Bill of Rights. In this presentation, you will learn the history and background of political demonstrations and demonstrators. This interactive seminar will cover the psychology of protests, different methods of assembling, why protests do not always remain peaceful, and strategies for explaining these sensitive topics to children.

BECOMING A PET PARENT

If you are considering adopting a pet, this seminar offers invaluable information for prospective pet parents. Join this interactive seminar to learn how to choose the right type of pet for your family, understand the expenses associated with pet care, and distinguish between pet stores and animal shelters. You will also receive best practices and resources to support you in your pet adoption journey.

BEST PRACTICES FOR SUPPORTING OTHERS

In this seminar, you will discuss effective techniques for providing support to others. Learn how to offer meaningful support without taking on the role of a counselor or therapist. You will leave with real-life strategies and resources to listen to, and support loved ones and coworkers.

CAREGIVING

Nearly one in three Americans is currently providing care for a family member. This seminar will cover essential topics such as self-care, assessing your family's needs, and maintaining balance in your life. We will discuss the emotional challenges and unique circumstances caregivers may face and provide valuable resources to ensure you take care of yourself as well.

CHILDREN AND DIVORCE

In this seminar, you will explore the challenges that children can encounter during the divorce process. Topics will include effectively communicating your divorce to your children, reassuring them, and providing the necessary resources and support to help them cope with feelings of self-blame. You will also learn tools to help your children communicate effectively and maintain balance during change.

CHILDREN AND STRESS

This seminar will educate you on how stress impacts children as young as seven years old, potentially hindering a happy and balanced childhood. We will outline the causes and warning signs of stress in children and discuss when parents should seek additional guidance. Together, we will explore symptoms of stress and techniques to help children manage it daily.

DEALING WITH CHANGE FOR FAMILIES

Change is an inevitable part of life, but some individuals find it more challenging to adapt than others. This seminar will equip you with tools to navigate change together as a family. We will discuss how various changes, big or small, can impact children, partners, spouses, and overall family dynamics. You will share personal experiences and discuss solutions in this interactive seminar.

DON'T FORGET YOUR SOCIAL LIFE!

Balancing work and home life can be stressful, often leaving little time for social activities and personal fulfillment. This seminar addresses the importance of leisure, fun, and stress-reduction activities as essential parts of life. You will leave with a mindset geared toward finding time for hobbies, spending time with important people, and maintaining a healthy balance between work and social life.

ELDER CARE

Today, it is common for one family member to be the primary caregiver for an older relative. This seminar will teach you how to adopt a family approach to caregiving. We will discuss how family dynamics and history can impact the ability to collaborate as caregivers. You will learn strategies for problem-solving and managing conflicts with siblings and other family members.

FAMILY & FRIEND GUIDE TO PTS

Post Traumatic Stress (PTS) can often be confusing for family and friends trying to support their loved ones who live with it every day. During this training, you will receive a fundamental overview of PTS, including its impact and warning signs to watch for. Together, we will discuss how to best support loved ones dealing with PTS symptoms and how to manage the challenging situations PTS can cause.

FATHERHOOD: A DAY IN THE LIFE

The long-term impact of a loving father being present in their child's life is tremendous, as evidenced by statistical data and research. In this interactive seminar, we will discuss how to prepare for the change's fatherhood brings to your daily schedule, how to prioritize and balance commitments, and how to establish routines that work best for your family. You will leave with the resources needed to be as prepared as possible for the wonderful gift and challenges of fatherhood.

GRIEF, DYING, AND DEATH

This thoughtful and compassionate seminar helps us discuss a topic that is challenging to speak about openly. For many of us, grief and the healing process can be very confusing and emotional when we lose someone close for the first time. This interactive seminar will be a safe space for you to share personal stories, explore recovery resources, and learn healthy ways to cope with grief.

HELPING OUR CHILDREN ACHIEVE THEIR DREAMS

In this seminar, you will gain the knowledge to help empower your children with the tools to turn their dreams into realities. We will focus on the importance of fostering a supportive and non-judgmental environment. This presentation will aid you in transitioning to a coaching role to help your children achieve their dreams.

HELPING TROUBLED TEENS

This seminar provides an overview and resources on how best to support a teenager struggling with mental health issues. Together, we will discuss signs and symptoms, when you should be concerned, and how to get additional help. Geared towards parents, this seminar will review warning signs of addiction, how to get immediate help for your child, and resources for your own well-being during this challenging time.

IS HIGH SCHOOL ENOUGH? THE NEW AGE

Today, many Americans believe that a college degree is essential for a high-paying career and a middle-seminar lifestyle. In this seminar, we will discuss the important life skills and responsibilities gained in college and how to determine if the investment is worth the return. Together, we will share our hopes for our children and provide resources to create an action plan for early college saving. You will leave with strategies to reach your college savings goals.

KEEPING YOUR AGING LOVED ONES SAFE

To ensure that caregivers and seniors remain safe and enjoy life to the fullest as they age, it is crucial to be well-informed about basic safety procedures. In this seminar, you will learn about six key areas of safety protocols, along with resources and tips designed to help seniors and caregivers stay as healthy as possible throughout the years. This program can be offered in two parts (covering three areas each or as one comprehensive presentation).

MANAGING FEAR AND ANXIETY IN CHILDREN

Join this seminar as we discuss tactics and techniques to help children of all ages cope with anxiety and fear. For parents, this seminar will provide context on the impact your own fears and anxieties can have on your children, and how to support their unique anxieties as separate from your own. You will leave this training better equipped to help your children manage their anxieties with compassion, structure, and flexibility.

MANAGING THE HOLIDAY SEASON

While the holiday season can be filled with celebrations and family gatherings, it can also bring stress, sadness, and overwhelm. In this seminar, we'll explore common sources of holiday stress and provide practical strategies for managing your emotions, time, relationships, and finances. You'll gain tips for staying organized, handling holiday demands, and reflecting on the role of traditions in your life. Join us to discover how to strike a balance and find more peace and joy during the holiday season.

NAVIGATING DECISIONS AS A FAMILY

In this seminar, you will learn how to navigate family decisions that will significantly impact your loved ones. We will discuss current family decisions you may be facing, address your concerns, and explore how to mitigate the potential negative impacts these decisions might have on your family. You will leave with the skills and resources to have important conversations, build a network of support, and empower children to share their thoughts and feelings during times of transition.

PROLONGED GRIEF

During this seminar you will learn the definition of prolonged grief, how it affects us cognitively, emotionally, and physically, and best practices for coping. This interactive seminar will provide treatment options and resources to support yourself and your loved ones during challenging times.

RAISING DIVERSITY IN YOUR HOME

It is the responsibility of all parents and caregivers to effectively communicate the value and importance of celebrating diversity in today's world. In this interactive seminar, you will share your own cultural traditions, discuss the impact of perpetual stereotypes on your life and community, and reflect on how your unique perspectives shape your interactions with others. You will leave with best practices and resources to raise children who embrace diversity and respect the cultures of all communities.

RELATIONSHIPS

Establishing and maintaining a healthy relationship requires monitoring and using emotional tools to keep those relationships strong. In this seminar, you will engage in interactive and lively discussions about the misconceptions of relationships, the meaning of fulfillment, the importance of communication, and the true definition of happiness. The seminar will conclude with key ingredients for a successful relationship and an action plan to strengthen your relationships and recognize areas for improvement.

SCREEN GUIDE

In today's digital world, many parents struggle with deciding when and how often to allow their children to use screens. In this interactive seminar, you will discuss age-appropriate apps and websites, as well as how to set limits with clear expectations and guidelines for children. You will leave with resources and tools for having challenging conversations with your children about why these guidelines and limits are in their best interest, and why occasionally bending the rules might be the right choice for parents.

STEPFAMILIES

Modern families come in various shapes and sizes, shaping our beliefs about the world around us. The care and support family members offer each other are essential for the healthy functioning and development of children, especially in stepfamilies. In this seminar, you will explore the joys and challenges of stepfamilies, how to build shared values, provide firm and fair discipline, and enjoy time together, regardless of family composition.

SURVIVING AND THRIVING THROUGH DIVORCE

The process of divorce affects not only the separating couple but also their children, relatives, and friends. This seminar provides practical information for those experiencing all stages of divorce or separation, including an overview of the divorce process, litigation versus mediation, coping skills, and tips for surviving the emotional toll. Join this supportive seminar to gain resources for healing, being present for your loved ones, and moving forward to the next chapter in your life.

TEEN SUICIDE PREVENTION

The popular Netflix series "13 Reasons Why" has sparked important conversations about suicide, but it also raises significant concerns within the mental health community. This seminar dives into the critical issues portrayed in the series, including the romanticization of suicide, the absence of responsible adult guidance, and the risks it poses to vulnerable teens. We'll explore the impact of media on youth mental health, how to recognize the warning signs of depression, and the dangers of copy-cat behaviors. Join us for an essential discussion on supporting teens through open dialogue, education, and prevention strategies to help save lives.

THE SANDWICH GENERATION

As a growing number of adult children find themselves caring for aging parents while balancing careers and family life, you might be part of the "Sandwich Generation." This seminar will help you discuss how to gather essential information, communicate effectively with family members, and proactively plan and advocate for the care of your aging parents and loved ones.

TODAY'S FAMILY: CHALLENGES AND CHANGES
