

Picture Books about Financial Literacy

Picture books are a great way to supplement your experience with your Financial Literacy Title. And even older kids love picture books! (Teachers – you can send this list home to families, too!)

Books About Money and Saving – There are many great picture books and chapter books to teach kids about the value of money. Check these out for classroom read-alouds:

- The Penny Pot by Stuart J. Murphy
- A Penny's Worth by Kimberly Wilson
- Rock, Brock, and the Savings Shock by Sheila Bair
- Alexander, Who Used to Be Rich Last Sunday by Judith Viorst
- Those Shoes by Maribeth Boelts
- A Bike Like Sergio's by Maribeth Boelts
- Amelia Bedelia Means Business by Herman Parish
- Lemonade in Winter: A Book About Two Kids Counting Money by Emily Jenkins and G. Brian Karas
- Bunny Money by Rosemary Wells
- A Smart Girl's Guide: Money by Nancy Holyoke
- Sweet Potato Pie by Kathleen D. Lindsey

Inspiring Young Inventors – There are some great picture books out there to inspire young inventors. You could rotate copies among different classrooms. You could even add STEM challenges to reading the books:

- If I Built a Car by Chris Van Dusen
- The Most Magnificent Thing by Ashley Spires
- Rosie Revere, Engineer by Andrea Beaty
- Balloons Over Broadway: The True Story of the Puppeteer of Macy's Parade by Melissa Sweet
- Earmuffs for Everyone!: How Chester Greenwood Became Known as the Inventor of Earmuffs by Meghan McCarthy
- Mr. Ferris and His Wheel by Kathryn Gibbs Davis and Gilbert Ford
