

WANNA BE A BANKER?

Many people think bankers spend their day counting money. While some bankers, such as tellers, count their customers' money, there are many other jobs you can have at a bank. There's a role for every personality and lifestyle. Do you have the following skills and interests?

MATH WHIZ?

Do you love numbers? Are you good at math?

Try: Cashier, Accountant, Teller

These positions handle money. Tellers and cashiers handle customer transactions. Accountants keep track of all of the money and transactions in the bank.

SOCIAL?

Do you use Facebook or Twitter? Do you like to write?

Are you creative and persuasive?

Try: Marketing Manager

Marketing staff is responsible for promoting the bank and encouraging people to become customers.

INVESTIGATOR?

Are you good at using clues to solve problems?

Try: Fraud Specialist

They conduct investigations to find suspicious activity on customer accounts.

PEOPLE PERSON?

Do you enjoy working with people and helping make their dreams come true?

Try: Loan Officer

They loan money from the bank to people so they can buy homes, pay for college or start a business.

PROTECTOR?

Are you interested in protecting others? Are you alert and able to spot suspicious behavior?

Try: Security Officer

They are responsible for the security and protection of the bank's employees and its assets.

LIKE HELPING PEOPLE?

Did you know bankers are active in their communities?

They volunteer their time and donate money to make their communities a better place to live.

Bankers not only teach children and adults how to save money, but they also help in other ways:

- helping communities clean up after disasters
- providing scholarships to students
- giving gifts to needy children
- helping build homes
- supporting youth programs
- sponsoring community food drives
- sending care packages to the military
- and much more

To learn about the banking industry in Virginia, visit www.vabankers.org.

BROUGHT TO YOU BY:

VIRGINIA BANKERS ASSOCIATION